EXCERPTS FROM EDITORIAL NOTES

The Drug Addict Question.—Recognition of the evils and wide distribution of drug addiction has advanced to the point where we are witnessing various governmental efforts to control the use of habit-forming drugs. That these efforts have not met with adequate success is demonstrated by the problems now appearing of the care and criminality of drug addicts who are hampered under the law in procuring a sufficient supply of the drug to keep them comfortable, law-abiding and productive workers. Illicit drug dealers are profiteering to a huge extent among these unfortunates and thus creating a situation still further operating to cause criminality, suffering and social inefficiency. . . .

Minimum Wage for Office Workers.—The State Industrial Welfare Commission, under date of June 20, 1919, issued an order affecting the minimum wage lawful to be paid women and minors. This is set at $13.50 per week, and includes workers in professional offices. The only exceptions to this rule apply to learners who, under certain conditions, may receive smaller wages. The total proportion of learners to all women employed shall not be greater than 33 1/3 per cent. . . .

Physicians should take due notice of this order and govern themselves accordingly.

EXCERPTS FROM ORIGINAL AND OTHER ARTICLES

From an Article on "Notes on Encephalitis Lethargica in San Francisco," by Philip King Brown, San Francisco.—Encephalitis Lethargica has made its appearance on the Pacific Coast in numbers sufficient to emphasize the epidemic character of the disease, and in a guise that frequently detracts attention from the chief characteristics of the disease as thus far described. . . .

From an Article on "Intestinal Flagellates: A Plea for Their Pathogenicity," by John V. Barrow, S.B., M.D., Los Angeles.—A general survey of the literature on flagellated protozoa impresses one with their growing importance. Twenty years ago, they were reported in different human organs as a sort of curiosity, but scarcely to be thought of as pathogenic parasites. However, very recent years have brought a greater realization of their importance as producers of pathology. The amoeba and ciliated balantidium coli were first to gain recognition. Now they have a young army of medical men ready to respect their pathogenic power. What has happened in the rôle of the amoeba, and balantidium, is beginning to be realized in the case of the flagellated monads. . . .

From an Article on "A Plea for the Earlier Recognition of Subacute Infantile Scurvy," by Langley Porter, M.D., M.R.C.S. (Eng.), San Francisco, and W. E. Carter, M.D., Los Angeles.—It is a popular lay notion which unfortunately has found its way into the medical mind

Board Continues Doctor's Plea

Sacramento (AP.)—The State Board of Medical Examiners last night continued until March action on the application of Nathan S. Housman, former San Francisco physician, for restoration of his medical license.

Housman's license was revoked by the board after he was convicted of keeping improper narcotic records and of perjury in his testimony at the trial.

The board placed on probation for a year Dr. Edward M. Lundegaard, Oakland, who was charged with aiding unlicensed persons in operation of a treatment for alcoholism.—Vallejo Times Herald, October 19.

"Opportunity Open to Foreign Physicians: The San Francisco Committee for Service to Émigrés has been informed by the National Committee for Resettlement of Foreign Physicians that the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration is in need of physicians from all branches of medicine. The age limit is 55 years. United States licensure is not essential. Germans, Hungarians, Bulgarians and Austrians, who are not yet American citizens, are not eligible, although unusually well qualified Austrians may be considered. Nationals of non-Axis countries are eligible. Time spent in the employ of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA) overseas will not be deducted from the required period of U. S. residency in computing eligibility for U. S. citizenship. American citizens are, of course, eligible. The salary ranges from $3,200 to $7,000 a year, plus total maintenance on a per diem basis. (Anyone interested may receive further information by telephoning Miss Schoenholz at Fillmore 4513.)" (From Emanu-El Jewish Journal, Oct. 6, 1944.)

"Dr. Charles Bacon Boudwin, 64, 8656 East Fourteenth Street, Oakland, and his nurse, Mrs. Ella Berry, 41, today faced prison sentences of two to five years after an Oakland superior court jury yesterday found them guilty of performing an abortion on Mrs. Mildred Hatton of 6425 Essex Street a year ago. Boudwin's license to practice medicine has been withdrawn." (San Francisco Bulletin, October 14, 1944.)

"A Coroner's jury in Santa Monica yesterday found that Mrs. Frances Drapier, 33, of 1228 Lincoln Blvd., Santa Monica, died last Saturday as a result of an illegal operation, but the jury did not name any person responsible for the death. Following the inquest, Deputy District Attorney Kenneth Lynch said there was insufficient evidence to file a complaint against Mae Wilson, 53-year-old osteopath, who was arrested Tuesday on suspicion of murder in connection with Mrs. Drapier's death. She was released at that time on $5,000 bail." (Los Angeles Times, Oct. 27, 1944.)

"Charged with two violations of the state health and safety code, Dr. Milton F. Novotny, Long Beach physician, yesterday was acquitted in Los Angeles superior had not been done before, and because he believed it would fill a very great need. He has aimed to accomplish a critical sifting of the important modern literature, a selection of all that is useful and needful in bedside therapeutics, and a rearrangement of this mass of knowledge for purposes of quick reference and individual completeness of treatment of each subject, to make it immediately available for practical needs.

The author expresses the hope that this new edition (the twelfth) is completely up-to-date, and that it will serve the practitioner in his daily work as usefully as did the preceding editions.

that scurvy is rare in California. This belief is accentuated by the facts that the orange, a well known anti-scorbutic, is a common fruit, and that most children of the State eat it frequently. An inquiry into the incidence of the disease shows this idea to be erroneous.

We have been able to collect from three San Francisco hospitals, from the records of a few of our pediatric friends and from our own, a series of thirty-nine cases which have occurred since July, 1917. For the most part, these represent the extreme cases that find their way into the hospitals and into the hands of the children's specialist. . . .

The facts here presented warrant the conclusion that scurvy is not rare amongst children who live in the vicinity of San Francisco. Most of the cases come to the clinics undiagnosed, a state of affairs which suggests that the less evident subacute cases are being overlooked. It is the hope of the writers that this paper may emphasize the need of a close scrutiny of young children in a search for the "fruste" forms of scorbutus. . . .

He attended a primipara, which made very slow progress; the husband grew uneasy and insisted on a consultation with old Dr. Smith, a quack, who had had many convictions to his record for illegally practicing medicine. The young physician quite reluctantly consented to the consultation. Old Dr. Smith proposed at once quilling. "What do you mean?" said my young confrere. "I will show you," came the answer. Here Dr. Smith filled a goose quill opened at both ends with smoking tobacco, blew it into the nostrils of the woman primipara; the latter was taken with a violent sneezing. At the third sneezing the baby was born, expelled by one the public, and the growing opposition on the part of ethical members of the profession to the use of the non-medical, or nurse anesthetist, who, although without basic medical training and with only superficial technical knowledge of etherization, is nevertheless, in reality, intrusted with the patient's life.

He quoted extensively from authorities and observers all over this country and abroad regarding this subject, showing that the consensus of opinion is that lay anesthetists have no place in properly regulated hospitals, or in the private employ of surgeons; that the lives of patients are unduly jeopardized merely for the financial remuneration of the individual or concern employing them.

He cited various authorities in other states than California regarding the legal aspect, and the opinions were to the effect that the surgeon who employs, or the hospital which countenances such practices is liable in case of any accident which may occur either directly or indirectly as a result of anesthesia so administered.

The paper was extensively and favorably discussed by many present and at the close, the following motion was introduced and unanimously adopted by rising vote:

"Resolved, That the Los Angeles County Medical Association go on record as in favor of the limitation of the practice of anesthesia to regular licensed physicians and surgeons." . . .

He spoke particularly of the type of case showing profound unconsciousness, slow pulse rate and other evidences of increased cranial pressure which can be relieved by a subtemporal decompression. The technique of this operation was illustrated by pictures thrown on the screen thereby making it more vivid and clear to his audience. After a short discussion, Dr. Naffziger answered various questions which were presented to him. The meeting adjourned at 11 p.m. . . .

From an Article on "Treatment of the Diphtheria Carrier, with Special Reference to Tonsillectomy and Adenoidectomy. With Report of 12 Cases," by Frank E. Detling, M.D., Los Angeles.—What to do with the diphtheria carrier is a problem, perplexing to doctors, health and hospital authorities, and most trying, inconvenient and expensive to patients.

The diphtheria carrier plays havoc with hospitals, especially institutions that limit their patients to children, frequently closing part or all of same, infecting and disorganizing the hospital forces, prolonged occupying of beds in the contagious departments, which are usually too limited even for ordinary requirements. The frequency of its unheralded appearance, and the general dis-social workers, and medical profession, the church, all realize that something must be done on a grand scale to replace the depleted vigor of the nation, and to make up for the losses sustained in the past four years of this horrible war, to raise the fast-falling birth rate, to decrease the frightful infant mortality, to overcome tuberculosis and venereal disease, to put a stop to abortion, and to regulate prostitution. The problem is so vast, and involves so many complicated side issues, that one feels almost lost in attempting to grapple with it. Since the war of 1870 the birth rate of France has gradually decreased, so much so that, the average birth rate of civilized nations being 31.3 per cent, in 1913 the French birth rate was 18.8 per cent per 1,000 inhabitants, 40 per cent below the average, and this even before the nation entered the great war. . . .
